THE BAYNARD FAMILY

The Baynard family of Maryland were early settlers in the northern section of Talbot County,now Queen Anne's County. They were large owners and a prosperous people .Many of the men were members of the armed forces and through the years held many public offices.

According to Sir Walter Besant's book"London" a Baynard came from Normandy to England with William the Conqueror in 1066. The book also tells of Baynard Castle in London which is no longer standing. It stood for 600 years but was distroyed by fire during the reign of Charles the Second. Also see Black's"History of London". I have searched the records for a connection between the American and English families of this name a and though their given names are identical,I have failed in this attempt.

The name Baynard is found in few States outside of Maryland and Delaware though one branch settled in South Carolina. According to Mr.Baynard Kendrick,a writer, who wrote that his mother was a Baynard and that his great grandfather,Ephraim Baynard,founded the school for boys known as the Citadel.

I believe John Baynard,who died in Talbot County in 1697,to be the settler and the forefather of all of this name in America. It is probable that he brought his son John with him. The first legal document bearing his name is found in the Talbot County archives dated 1686.

The records of Thomas Baynard of Carolin County were traced through the kindness of Edwina Baynard Martin (Mrs.William E.Hoyt) of Quaker Hill,Conn.

There are many interesting tomb stones in the old family burying ground near Burrsville. The odd houes is not large but the interior is among the fine and original ones left in Caroline Co. The chimney breasts with their carved mantels and broken arches with well proportioned pediments are well worth a trip to Caroline Co. The date 1788 is carved one a timber in the basement.On my last visit there it was owned by a Mr Hurt.
